PROFILE

Go-to-market and commercial strategy leader who has taken a global technology product into Brazil and Latin America from a standing start. Built and ran the market-entry plan that grew Crypto.com's LATAM business from zero to 6M+ users and the #1 app position in the region, orchestrating across marketing, product, partnerships and operations inside a matrixed global organisation. Owns regional business planning, performance frameworks and field enablement end to end, and turns market, competitive and customer insight into prioritised, measurable action. Based in São Paulo, with deep working knowledge of the Brazilian market and an established local network across the technology, fintech and partner ecosystem.

SELECTED OUTCOMES

- 0 → 6,000,000+ users and #1 app in Latin America — owned the go-to-market plan for Crypto.com's regional market entry
- 0 → 130,000 — built Sui Foundation's regional channel from a standing start
- Owned regional market prioritisation, launch sequencing and local execution, aligning the local plan to global objectives
- Built and ran the performance cadence for the region — KPI definition, reporting and business reviews — and used it to reallocate effort against results
- Translated competitive, regulatory and customer insight in Latin America into prioritised recommendations that shaped the regional plan

EXPERIENCE

Sui Foundation — [job title]

[city] · [start] – [end]

- Grew the regional channel from 0 to 130,000 from a standing start
- Orchestrated across product, marketing and partnerships to align the region behind a single growth plan
- Produced market and competitive analysis for the region and translated it into prioritised action
- Designed and ran partner and community enablement programmes, including the supporting materials

Crypto.com — [job title]

[city] · [start] – [end]

- Owned the Latin America go-to-market plan end to end — market prioritisation, segment strategy, launch sequencing and local execution — scaling the region from zero to 6M+ users and the #1 app position
- Built the regional business plan, aligned it to global objectives, and drove execution across marketing, product, partnerships and operations
- Defined and ran the regional performance cadence: KPI frameworks, reporting and business reviews
- Built field and partner enablement — positioning, materials and training — to support local execution at scale
- Worked across a matrixed global organisation, influencing headquarters functions without direct authority
- Represented the business externally in the Brazilian market
